Screen Trading Halt - 9/12/99

Members would be aware that arising from problems encountered, the SYCOM® market was halted on 9 December 1999 for approximately 47 minutes.

The problem was due to a failure of both the primary and stand-by trading engines. As a result, it was necessary to shut down and re-start the system in order to re-cover. Accordingly, the system was unavailable between 2.30 pm and 3.05 pm.

This incident is being fully investigated by the Exchange and its developers with the highest priority, and the cause and resolution will be advised to Members in due course.
